

RB Farquhar

case study

Client: Barr Construction

Project: Temporary Site Offices, Penicuik

Client need:

In November 2005 Barr Construction secured a contract for a new Leisure Centre and Library in Penicuik for Midlothian Council and needed to mobilize their site set-up for a January 2006 start on site. Barr wanted site accommodation that matched their high standards, within budget and to a tight timescale.

Our solution:

Working closely with Barr, we were able to meet their specification within their available budget. To ensure their requirements were met, the client visited our East of Scotland depot at Carronshore and was impressed by the quality of cabin available. We were able to install the nine linked units on site within their demanding timescale.

Result:

The Barr Construction Penicuik team were delighted with the quality of unit supplied for this one year lease. They were also impressed by the professional approach of RB Farquhar's operations team in installing the site offices within such a tight timescale.
